PACIFIC COAST WIRELESS EXPERT IS FROM TONOPAH

FRANK W. SHAW SETS RECORD FOR SENDING MESSAGES LONG DISTANCE.

Frank W. Shaw, formerly a Tonopah resident, now recognized as the most expert wireless telegraph operator on the Pacific coast, is now stationed aboard the Oceanic liner, Sierra. Shaw, some time ago, was employed at the Rye Patch pumping station, having come to southern Nevada from California for his health. He spent a number of months here and then returned to the coast. In speaking of his accomplishment the following is taken from a recent issue of the Examiner:

When the Oceanic liner Sierra, Captain Houdette, sails for Honolulu at 2 o'clock this afternoon the recognized expert operator of the Pacific coast will have charge of its wireless equipment. Frank W. Shaw, employed by the United Wireless company until it was taken over by the Marconi company, will be the man in charge. Shaw has been operator at Hillcrest for about half of the term of his employment, and would still remain there if his eyes had not given him trouble. This made it necessary to make a change to a position where the strain would be less constant. He was responsible for the longest distance wireless record ever made on the Pacific coast. Two records between Hillcrest and the steamships Korea and Mongolia, respectively, were for 4300 miles.

GAMBLERS AT GOLDFIELD ARE FINED BY COURT

COUNTY TO SECURE REVENUE AS RESULT OF PUBLIC VIOLATIONS OF LAW.

Five men have had to pay $125 to the county to find out that when District Attorney Diskin said there should be no gambling in Goldfield he meant exactly what he said, says the Tribune. They did not quarrel about it. They paid.

Word was quietly slipped to the district attorney that a game was in progress in the Orient and the Bank saloons. He investigated the story and found out enough to enable him personally to swear out a warrant for the arrest of J. E. Jepperson, J. Manning, Matt Burke, William Kierney, and Alex Young, and Constable Tooby was handed the warrants to serve. He did so, notifying the men to appear before Judge Barnes.

They smiled sheepishly and went before the judge promptly. There each of them pleaded guilty as his name was called and each was assessed $25 for trying to disobey the new gambling law of Nevada. It was the game in which they participated that gave rise to the rumor that has been in circulation in the camp for several days that gambling has been resumed here. Their arrest was the prompt action by the authorities to the story.

"There is no gambling that I am aware of in camp now," District Attorney Diskin said in commenting on the case, "and I am informed that there is none of any description. There will be none either."

Jepperson was one of the two chief defendants in the gambling case that fell to the ground through the failure of the jury to convict after the passage of the present law. He was arrested under the old law, which was much more drastic in its wording than the present, but which was difficult to enforce owing to a ruling of Cleveland Baker when he was attorney general.

AMUSEMENTS

Butler Theater.

Another star program of pictures will be shown at the Butler this evening. The feature for tonight is a two reel Biograph comedy drama entitled, "The Little Tease," a very interesting subject which will please all; "What Happened to Mary," a Vitaphone comedy entitled, "Dick the Dead Shot." Little Dick is full of Old Nick, and full of dime novel trash. He runs away from home to become a hero of yellow literature. His parents go in pursuit of him, and the whole town joins in the chase. He is caught and spanked by his mother, where it does him the most good. This is a very funny comedy that will amuse all. Tomorrow, "The Wrong Road to Happiness," a two reel feature.
